

Getting Started with Ecoferral

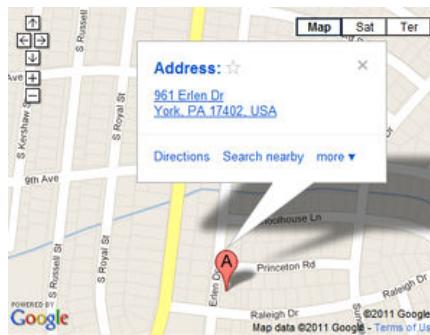

Ecoferral is a web-based referral and communication tool for businesses and networking groups. Ecoferral allows you to send referrals online within your networking group and keep track of the referrals. Businesses also have the ability to send and receive testimonials from businesses within their group. Need to send a business a message? We have an integrated messaging system so you can send messages and attach Youtube videos to your messages!

Businesses deal with communication issues every day. Email used to be a good way to communicate but with Spam Filters filtering out junk mail, and too many contacts to deal with email by itself becomes inefficient. Are you a Business and want to increase Business?

Here are a few of the features Ecoferral can provide:

You have your Very own Company Profile Page with the following features!
